Whole Grain Goodness

Many of you who know us know that Natasha is an extremely vibrant woman, full of life and vitality. She walks into a room and you notice. Less apparent, however, is the fact that she has been battling various forms of heart disease for the last 14 years. We' almost lost her from our lives several times.

It's fair to say that heart health is one of our passions. Natasha's a national spokesperson for a wonderful organization called WomenHeart: the National Coalition of Women with Heart Disease, dedicated to educating women about heart health. And our whole-grain breads from Great Harvest fit perfectly into a heart-healthy lifestyle.

This February, take care of your sweet heart—and your own heart at the same time! Take a few extra walks and look for our Heart Month Specials in the store and online. Take care...
